Learning Samashti

The word 'Samashti' translates to wholeness which exceptionally describes the motto of this magazine. It aims in bringing together all the Nagarjuna Group of Institutions under one umbrella for appreciation and acknowledgement of their achievements and progress.

Samashti Magazine comprises glimpses of different activities and programmes that educate and enlighten. It is an overview of the events that took place in all branches of NGI. Different sections in Samashti depict different sides of NGI that fulfils the institutions vision.

From The Management's Desk

Greetings,

Education is a core component of the information age. This age defines development with just a thought and is known as the generation of creative minds and practical vision. For such a unique generation, the Nagarjuna Group of Institutions have been levelling up their game to provide excellent education and state-of-the-art facilities.

NGI has a vision of bringing in leadership and excellence in education to create visionaries and world leaders. This vision is implemented with the mission of imparting quality education abundant with philosophy and human values. The progress of the mission is recorded in glimpses within Samashti.

It is the third edition of Samashti, an internal quarterly magazine of NGI. It is designed with the aim of bringing together the achievements of all the institution's under one umbrella. This magazine depicts NGI in a unique light with snippets of internal programmes along with informational content. It carries the essence of each institution and showcases them in their distinctive style. It also summarises the quarterly activities of the institution, giving a glimpse of education at NGI.

Ideas Exchanged through Ted Talks

3 Rules to Spark Learning: Ramsey Musallam, Educator

The orator is a chemistry teacher with 13 years experience in the education sector. He shares his journey of creating a 3-rule process to turn a monotonous classroom into an interactive and interesting one. From his Ted talk, we present you with the same 3-rule process to be a lifelong learner who believes in the theme 'Everything is Possible'.

1. Curiosity Comes First

Curiosity is an ingrained element that leads to innovation, invention, and interaction. Being curious and supporting others curious behaviour tends to spark intelligent and world-changing conversations about ideas.

2. Embrace the Mess: The Trial and Error Method

As the world is developing and upgrading, there is scope to achieve everything. Therefore, in this situation, taking the first step matters the most. Trying and failing is part of a process that builds up knowledge step by step, so be open to trying different things out.

3. Practise Reflection

Practise makes an amateur turn into a master real quick. Therefore, while practising, you understand your strengths and weaknesses significantly. This information presents you with an opportunity to improve and succeed. Reflecting on the practise sessions, you can realise your power to achieve anything you put your mind to.
